

Church bin a disgrace.

I have mentioned this before but why not look at having either a larger or an additional overflow bin (as they do successfully at Royston Heath and elsewhere) where they are clearly required such as the Church?

Advising dog walking parishioners to take their bags home or find another bin are clearly not working. Then we have the annual influx of visitors.

We now have more houses, more dogs and less bins but presumably more income coming in too so not sure a couple of overflow bins is going to break the budget.

Imagine everyone being faced with this at Ashwell at Home.
